

ONE-DAY WORKSHOPS FOR SUMMER 2008

Our 8 Three-Day Workshops have concluded at all locations; our One-Day schedule follows.

July 7th: This is a re-listing necessitated by conflicts with various school review programs.

To accommodate referrals from our June workshops, Advanced Performance Seminars will offer a series of one-day performance test workshops featuring Prof. John Holtz statewide during the next week.

Friday	July 11 in West Los Angeles at the UWLA School of Law

Thursday	July 17 in Costa Mesa (O.C.) at Whittier Law School
Friday	July 18 in San Diego: 2d date now available for overflow
Monday	July 21 in LA for WLA & OC overflow

Reserve your space on the reservation page by including a tag after your name re the location you wish to attend, e.g., John Public WLA11. Payment is at the door. The submission process does not automatically confirm your reservation, but you'll be notified shortly of the room number and other logistics.

If you are one of the many students who didn't find the Bar/Bri lectures as helpful as you had hoped, this day of performance training will finally allow you to –

- Settle on the best reading approach and maximize your comprehension;
- Effectively organize File and Library materials into a complete outline;
- Avoid presentation traps and formatting issues;
- Develop appropriate problem-solving skills and task sensitivity; and
- Gain unique test-taking insight and exam confidence.

Cost is $140 per individual or $125 if you reserve your space with a study-buddy.

All attendees must sign a Nondisclosure Agreement to protect unique course approaches and test-taking secrets. After all, it's a competitive exam; in the bar's subjective grading scheme your papers are competing with the product of all other applicants. And that's exactly what makes this section of the exam so critical in terms of the skills, strategies and insight you bring to the test.
